DETAILED ACTION

Response to Amendment

1. Acknowledgement is made of applicant's election of claims 1-12 and 17, without traverse, filed on July 27, 2005.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

2. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

3. Claims 1-12 and 17 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Wiswesser et al (US_6,296,548 B1).
4. Claim 1 is rejected because:
  - A. Wiswesser et al (Wiswesser hereinafter) discloses a method comprising providing first measured data indicative of a thickness of at least one layer of a structure in at least selected sites of the structure, applying optical measurements to at least said selected sites in the structure after processing and generating second measured data indicative of thickness of the processed structure, analyzing the second measured data by interpreting it using the first measured data to thereby determine a thickness of at least one layer of the processed structure, for use in controlling processing of a structure (see col.1, lines 55-58; col.14, lines 40-54) to improve the process uniformity to enhance the quality of the structure. However, Wiswesser do not explicitly disclose that the thickness of said structure is indicative of the quality of said processing.

Art Unit: 2877

B. It is well known in the art that uniformity of thickness of a semiconductor structure is associated with the quality of the structure. Therefore, in view of Wiswesser's teaching of obtaining uniformity in the processing of a substrate, it would have been to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to infer that uniformity of thickness of a semiconductor structure is associated with the quality of the structure.

5. Claims 2-12 are rejected for the same reasons of rejection of claim 1, because said claims are directed to addition/removal of a layer of material and measuring the thickness before and after the process of addition/removal of the layer and is analogous/equivalent to one of ordinary Wiswesser's teaching.

6. Claim 17 is rejected for the same reasons of rejection of claim 1 because it recites an apparatus that is capable of performing the method-steps of claim 1. All the limitations of claim 17 are found in Wiswesser's teaching (see Figure 2; col.5, line 58- col.6, line 30).

Conclusion

7. The prior art Ishikawa et al (US_6,185,322) is made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure.

8. Several facts have been relied upon from the personal knowledge of the examiner about which the examiner took Official Notice in this office action. Applicant must seasonably challenge well known statements and statements based on personal knowledge when they are made. In re Selmi, 156 F.2d 96, 70 USPQ 197 (CCPA 1946); In re Fischer, 125 F.2d 725, 52 USPQ 473 (CCPA 1942). See also In re Boon, 439 F.2d 724, 169 USPQ 231 (CCPA 1971) (a challenge to the taking of judicial notice must contain adequate information or argument to create on its face a reasonable doubt regarding the circumstances justifying the judicial notice). If applicant does not seasonably traverse the well-known statement during examination, then the object of the well known statement is taken to be admitted prior art. In re Chevenard, 139 F.2d 71, 60 USPQ 239 (CCPA 1943). A seasonable challenge constitutes a demand for evidence made as soon as practicable during prosecution. Thus, applicant is charged with rebutting the well-known statement in the next reply after the Office action in which the well known statement was made.

9. Any inquiry concerning this communication or earlier communications from the examiner should be directed to Roy M. Punnoose whose telephone number is 571-272-2427. The examiner can normally be reached on 9:00 AM - 5:30 PM.

If attempts to reach the examiner by telephone are unsuccessful, the examiner's supervisor, Gregory J. Toatley, Jr. can be reached on 571-272-2800 ext.77. The fax phone number for the organization where this application or proceeding is assigned is 571-273-8300.
